LOSE AN HOUR Saturday when Daylight Savings begins again. Don't forget set your clocks ahead.

MRS. MERLE WELLS of the shop was the person who reported the fire and suspicious things on at Alert Cleaners April 19. There is no accounting for the "Owens" listed in the official report of the incident. We have information from the police and fire report.

OF SATURDAY, the old Solano store at Solano and Main is a thing of the past. The sidewalk superintendents, one man and a Caterpillar with huge metal jaws barked, hacked and chewed the sidewalk down.

CONGRATULATIONS to Walter Kees, retired head of Albany's Chamber of America, who recently made a hole-in-one. And to Mrs. Robert (Fern) Luoma for holding distinction of being the first woman to serve on the board of directors of Albany Little League.

GET WELL QUICKLIES to Bunch of 711 Buchanan, who is at Kaiser Hospital; Joy Kierfield of 961 Peralta, who is surgical patient at Alta Bates and a belated mention of Edith Kierfield of 800 Washington, who spent 15 days at Providence, is recuperating at home and expects to return to work shortly. The May 1-L. Virginia Moody, who underwent surgery last Wednesday at Alta Bates, went into shock and it was touch and go for a while there. Now, however, she's feeling well enough to sample the goodies from the dairy department, where she's one of the supervisors.

D. J. O'Connor, Businessman, Dies Suddenly
Daniel Justin O'Connor, 65, owner-manager of O'Connor and Walls furniture store at 1185 Solano, died suddenly of an apparent heart attack Easter morning in Truckee, where he and his wife were visiting friends.

Funeral services will be conducted at 8:30 a.m. Thursday at the new McNary chapel, 3030 Telegraph, Berkeley. Requiem Mass will be conducted at St. Ambrose Catholic church, 1145 Gilman, at 9 a.m., followed by interment at Golden Gate National cemetery.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Mr. O'Connor was a member of Berkeley Elks and St. Ambrose church. He and his wife had operated their furniture store here for about seven years. The family home is at 1328 Ada St., Berkeley.

Survivors include his wife, Belva; daughters, Mrs. Joann Nieland of Oakland and Mrs. Dorothy Jean Shull of Pleasant Hill; brothers, Jack, Myron and Randall, and sisters, Mrs. Marie MacLain and Mrs. Edna Reape, all of Youngstown.

The family has requested that those wishing to make contributions in his memory direct them to the Elks Charity Fund of the Berkeley lodge.

First Steps Taken Toward New AHS Construction

The Board of Education of Albany Unified School District will open bids on May 11 for installation of science laboratories, a fire alarm system, fire safety work, new construction, heating unit and thermostatic controls at Albany High School (see legal notice in today's Times).

Work will begin immediately after the close of school June 18. By Sept. 1, a parking area will be re-located in the former location of the annex. The cottage and adjoining garage are slated for demolition this summer.

The board has tentatively set June 8 as the date for opening bids for the construction of two new buildings south of the existing main building. If the bids are within estimates, a public groundbreaking ceremony will be held later in June, Superintendent Kenneth Forry said.

Following opening of bids May 11, the board will know how much can be done in the way of repairs to the main building. This may include re-roofing, improved lighting, painting and replacement of windows.

The board referred to the architect a letter from Albany Fire Capt. John Hoeth noting provisions of the Fire Prevention Code regarding improvement of the fire alarm system at the high school.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, the public schools have helped to keep this nation free and universal public education as conceived by America has strengthened and will continue to strengthen this free and democratic society and education is America's greatest investment in the future;

AND WHEREAS public education is dedicated to provide equal educational opportunity for all youth and now faces the monumental task of preparing tomorrow's space-age citizens in today's classrooms, our schools must provide the knowledge, skills and understanding necessary to develop the capabilities of all students to their highest potential and the world of the twenty-first century will demand greater responsibilities, new dimensions in thinking and living in universal relationships;

AND WHEREAS the Constitution of the State of California has declared public education as the first business in this State and Public Schools Week was initiated by the California Grand Lodge of Masons forty-six years ago to call the attention of citizens to the achievements and problems of their schools;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, George Hein, Mayor of the City of Albany, do hereby proclaim April 26 to 30 as Public Schools Week in the Albany community and urge my fellow citizens to show an active and sincere support of our public schools and of those who serve America in the vital role of education by attending and participating in Public Schools Week observances. Help to "BUILD A BETTER AMERICA... SUPPORT OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS."

Lewis M. Howell Elected Mayor of Albany Monday

Lewis M. Howell

Lewis M. (Lew) Howell was unanimously elected mayor of Albany during the reorganization session Monday night. Councilman Richard O. Clark was elected vice mayor.

A member of the Council for the past 13 years, Howell will be serving his seventh term as mayor of the city.

Councilman Joseph Egenberger nominated Howell, "dean of the City Council who by reason of tenure has earned the respect of us all. It has been five or six years since he has been mayor and I believe he is entitled to the position and would do a creditable job."

In seconding the motion, Councilman Joel Parker said after soul-searching, he had come to the conclusion that Howell's dedication for 13 years and his work on many civic projects made him deserving to be mayor the year the city buildings are dedicated. Both votes were 4-0 with the nominee abstaining.

Howell's election came after Mayor George Hein's frank bid for a second term. "I want to say one year is hardly enough," Hein said. "I would like another year. When you vote, I hope you will keep that in mind."

Praise was profuse for Outgoing Mayor Hein by all members of the council, who directed City Attorney Larry Saler to prepare a resolution commending him. It will be personally signed by other members of the body.

In a session lasting until 11:10 p.m., the reorganization and public hearing on zoning changes were major events.

Award
Near the beginning of the session, Barry Runnion, Jr., chapter chairman of Alameda County March of Dimes, presented a plaque to the council for Albany's per capita giving of more than 40 cents in the 1965 campaign.

Councilman Egenberger said the award reflects the efforts of those in charge, the civic spirit of Albany and the feeling of good will toward the March of Dimes on the part of the citizenry. Council directed City Attorney Saler to prepare a resolution commending the committee.

Another resolution will commend Councilman Egenberger for his selection by Ford Motor Company as the recipient of one of 40 "Ford Citizen of the Year" awards made throughout the (Continued on Page 8)

Burglar Caught In Act at Albany Inn

Thanks to a silent alarm, Clarence Earl Valencia, Jr., of San Pablo was caught in the act of burglarizing Albany Inn at 985 San Pablo Ave. about 5 a.m. on April 16.

Police Sgt. Jim Harris and Officers Mel Boyd and Ron Gagnon responded to the alarm. Valencia, also known as Schambol, had knocked a hole in the ceiling, dropped in and rifled cigarette machine, juke box and the cash drawer, taken $63.40.

At the police station, Valencia confessed entering another bar ("beginning with S") the same night. This was Serb's at 1045 San Pablo, where a loss of $70 to $80 was reported by owners.

Both groups are working through the Albany Chamber of Commerce and the consulting offices of City Administrative Officer James Turner.

Note of Thanks

I wish to extend my thanks to the Albany fire and police departments for their quick and kindly assistance to my mother, the late Anna Rembado, when we called for the inhalator. The many acts of kindness by neighbors and friends also were deeply appreciated.

COUNCIL

REZONING R-2 ACTION HELD OVER TO MAY 10

Following a public hearing lasting an hour and a half, Albany City Council voted Monday night to conduct additional work sessions on the proposed changes in R-2 zoning with final action at the regular meeting Monday, May 10.

Representatives of residents of the areas involved were unanimous in protesting construction of anything larger than a duplex. Nearly 200 signatures on petitions or letters protesting the proposed changes had been received. One letter favored the change.

Formally known as R-1630 and R-1250 districts, the proposed changes involve requirement of 1,650 or 1,250 square feet per dwelling unit, respectively, with no use permit. In the first, a triplex would be the largest structure permitted on interior lots with a possibility of fourplexes on corners. In the second, use permits would not be required for triplexes and fourplexes, but architectural approval would be required for everything above a duplex.

Areas involved in the proposals, which are restrictions rather than liberalizations of present zoning, are: R-1630, bounded by the frontage on Washington to the back of the north frontage on Larimouth and from Masonic to mid-block between Stannage and Kains; R-1250, both sides of Stannage from Dartmouth to Brighton, the south side of Brighton from Stannage to Masonic and to the southerly city limits below Dartmouth.

As R-2 zoning exists today, triplexes and fourplexes may be built with a use permit. In one case, however, a request for a fourplex at 1040 Evelyn was denied because of protests by residents of the area. The case was taken to court and the city won, but Councilmen warned Monday night that they could lose such a case and fourplexes would spring up all over the R-2 districts.

Councilmen explained they are attempting to "end the confusion" regarding the zoning ordinance and that the proposals actually tighten requirements.

Several in the audience said they were tired of coming to Council and Planning and Zoning meetings time after time to protest multiples.

When a councilman said this is what they were trying to correct, a woman complained that they were taking away her right to protest.

Another woman objected to renters, who are "not stabilized homeowners," who are in and out with the result that areas deteriorate morally and in appearance. One said he didn't want strangers in apartments above looking down in his yard. He said it wouldn't be so bad if multiples were one-story.

Later Councilman Joel Parker took issue with the idea that renters are necessarily strangers. "Some of the best friends I now have were strangers at one time," he said.

Parker pointed out that the vast majority of homes in Albany are in good condition and too valuable to be torn down for multiples. "I doubt if there would be any great swing to multiples in the next 10 to 15 years," he said, adding that Planner Herman Rich reported only six substandard homes in the city.

When the public hearing closed, Councilman Richard Clark moved to postpone action to May 10. During the discussion, Councilman Parker protested the postponement as "grossly unfair to those here tonight."

Councilman Lewis Howell said Council has tried honestly to compromise the R-2 ordinance. "I think we all have to compromise," he added.

On the motion to postpone, Parker cast the lone dissenting vote.

City Attorney Larry Saler said that in work sessions Council could make zoning laws more restrictive without going through the entire process again, but they could not be made more lax without hearings, public notices and votes of both Council and Planning and Zoning commission.

Nick Reckas Soroptimist Speaker Today

N. P. Reckas, lecturer extraordinary, will be introduced on Wednesday at the Soroptimist Club of Albany's luncheon, April 21, by Mrs. Marge Bishop Ackert of the Berkeley Business Service, chairman of the day.

The luncheon meeting will be held at Serb's Restaurant at 12 noon. Reckas, who was a member of an archeology expedition to Palestine in 1935, became deeply interested in desert beauty. Approximately 10 years ago, Reckas began to explore Death Valley. He has explored many of the remote canyons surrounding the Valley and taken innumerable photographs.

He stated that the starkness of the Funeral Mountains, towering above the bare beauty of the desert in the valley, has a fascination both forcemul and spiritual. "Beautiful Hell," as Death Valley is sometimes called, will be the subject of his talk titled "Flora and Fauna of Death Valley."

Reckas presents such an outstanding program that Bernice Boyd, President of the Albany Soroptimist Club has extended an invitation to anyone who wishes to attend.

School Board Two Tentative Million Dollar Budgets Considered

Albany's school budget for the 1966 fiscal year is under consideration by the Board of Education.

At the meeting last Tuesday night, Superintendent Kenneth Forry presented two tentative budgets. The first includes an increase in teacher salaries to $16,175. The second includes a 6.67 per cent increase in teacher salaries (as requested by the Albany Teachers' association) and a cash fund of $59,705 would remain if the first budget were adopted. The second would leave a reserve of $19,732. This year's budget is $1,657,616 with a reserve fund of $70,209.

The board will hold several meetings before a final budget is adopted, Forry said.

The superintendent has proposed a nine-cent increase in the district tax rate from $3.95 on an assessed valuation of $21,600,000 to $4.24. The present maximum district tax rate is $3.45 plus a one-cent restricted tax rate which requires school board approval and does not require voter approval. Last year's vote approved the district maximum.

Removal of Albany property from the tax rolls because of Bay Area Rapid Transit district, Forry reported, has made it difficult to accurately estimate income. This could reduce assessed valuation in Albany by $250,000. Also

SF Newsman Speaker For Republicans Wednesday, April 28

Ed Montgomery, Pulitzer-prize-winning newsman, will speak on "Unpublished News Facets" at the meeting of Albany Republican Assembly at Cornell School cafeteria at 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 28.

Program Chairman Mrs. Joel Parker said the public is urged to attend this meeting.

A native of Colorado, where his father was a newspaperman, Montgomery has been with the Examiner 19 years. He has won the Northern California All-Professional Award four times, received the award for the best Associated Press news story of 1963 and has twice been president of the San Francisco Press club.

He and his wife have three children. They live in Burlingame.

CIVIL SERVICE

A Civil Service course offered by the Albany Adult School, 603 Key Route Blvd., Tuesday evenings 7 to 10, not only serves as preparation for Civil Service employment, but also offers a basic review in such subjects as arithmetic, spelling, vocabulary, indexing and filing, sentence meaning, paragraph interpretation, and reading comprehension. This course, open to Albany and non-Albany residents, will be taught by Eugene Christos.

Lions' Project

Mobile Eye Clinic Returns Again Saturday

Albany residents will again have the opportunity to avail themselves of the Lions Mobile Eye Clinic this Saturday when the unit will be stationed at the Safeway Market, Solano and Curtis.

Walter Sears, president of the local club, reports the demand for the unit last week far exceeded that anticipated, thus leading to this additional scheduling to better serve the community.

Free eye screening by a doctor will be offered between the hours of 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. Only about 10 minutes of time is required for screening.

This expanded sight conservation program of the Lions is sponsored by all clubs in Contra Costa and Alameda Counties and has, in the short space of one month, proven its value by the discovery of five critical eye defects where the individual suspected no difficulty.

WHIST PARTY

The ladies' auxiliary 2658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will sponsor a whist party Tuesday night, April 27, at 8 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial building, Ollie Blair is chairman. On Friday, April 30, at 1724 San Pablo Ave., the group will hold a rummage sale. Those having rummage are asked to call 525-1629 or 524-1219 for pickup.

EAGLES AUXILIARY

A full program is scheduled for the April 27 meeting of Bayview Eagles Auxiliary 2323 in their hall on Carlson Blvd., El Cerrito. In addition to the regular business, four members will be initiated and officers for the coming year will be nominated. Election will take place at the May 11 meeting. Refreshments and games will follow.
